The following table provides a detailed overview of the data collected during the study, categorized by region and time period. The data shows a significant increase in activity across all regions, with the most pronounced growth observed in the southern and eastern areas. This trend is consistent with the overall market expansion and the implementation of new initiatives.

Region	Q1 2023	Q2 2023	Q3 2023	Q4 2023
North	120	135	150	165
South	180	200	220	240
East	150	170	190	210
West	100	115	130	145
Central	130	145	160	175

The data indicates that the southern region has the highest volume of activity, followed by the eastern and central regions. The northern region shows a steady but slower growth rate. The western region, while having the lowest volume, also shows a consistent upward trend. These findings suggest that the southern and eastern markets are the primary drivers of growth, and strategies should be tailored to these areas to maximize potential.
