1. Introduction

The following text is a placeholder for the main content of the document, which is currently obscured by a large watermark. The watermark consists of a large, stylized, semi-transparent 'X' shape that spans across the entire page, preventing the underlying text from being legible. The text is likely a technical or academic document, given the structured layout with a header and numbered sections.

Figure 1

The diagram illustrates the relationship between the horizontal bar and the vertical line, showing how they interact to form a specific structure.

The diagram shows the horizontal bar and vertical line in a different configuration, highlighting the changes in their relative positions.

The diagram depicts the horizontal bar and vertical line in yet another configuration, demonstrating the dynamic nature of their interaction.
