2. Methodology

The study was conducted in a laboratory setting. The participants were recruited from a local university. The experiment was designed to measure the effect of the independent variable on the dependent variable. The data was collected over a period of six weeks. The results of the study are presented in the following table:

Condition	Mean Value	Standard Deviation
Control	15.2	2.1
Experimental	18.7	3.4

The findings indicate a significant difference between the control and experimental groups. The experimental group showed a higher mean value, suggesting a positive effect of the intervention. Further analysis revealed that the effect was most pronounced in the first three weeks of the study.
