the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are illiterate has increased from 1.1 billion to 1.2 billion (UNESCO 2003).

There are many reasons for the increase in illiteracy. One of the reasons is that the population of the world is increasing rapidly. Another reason is that the number of people who are illiterate is increasing in many countries, especially in the developing countries. This is because of the lack of access to education and the lack of resources for education.

There are many ways to reduce the number of illiterate people in the world. One way is to increase the number of schools and to improve the quality of education. Another way is to provide more resources for education, especially in the developing countries. This is because education is the key to development and to reducing poverty.

There are many people who are illiterate in the world. This is a serious problem because it prevents them from getting a good education and from finding a good job. This is why it is important to find ways to reduce the number of illiterate people in the world.
